—This scholarship has been founded and created by Joanna Bonilla—

The jojo Scholarship "I Believe in Young Talent" is sponsored by Joanna Bonilla, a young woman who once used to play soccer. She was inspired to do this scholarship for many different reasons. Mainly it was to encourage kids to believe in themselves. It's not always about the BEST player or the #1 ranking player, we also have to celebrate the players that play with their hearts. The players that surprise us with how much they care about the game also he player on the sideline, cheering the team to glory; let's celebrate them and encourage them to keep that great attitude up. Soccer brings everyone together! We cheer the wonderful talent our kids have, remember it's not always about being the BEST but it's also about leaving our heart out on the field.

Soccer has helped so many people accomplish their dreams and for that reason,

The jojo Scholarship "I Believe in Young Talent" will donate $500 to International Football Club (IFC).

The winners of this scholarship will receive $250 each that will cover half of their next season fees.

The jojo Scholarship "I BELIEVE IN YOUNG TALENT" concurs with International Football Club's philosophy...

Founded in 2011, International Football Club (IFC) is a non-profit youth soccer club based in Northern Virginia that aims to make a positive impact in the lives of young children through soccer. Our mission is to use "The Beautiful Game" to teach youth positive social and life skills. Under the guidance of a quality coaching and managing staff, our focus is to promote academic achievement, character and leadership development, and healthy lifestyles through soccer-based programs. Ultimately, we seek to entrust our players with the values of becoming leaders in the community because we believe in the potential of young people to lead and succeed.
